10 Tips for Office Wellness

Organize your Workspace

Declutter your workspace! You may or may not have much control over where your office is located and how it's set up, but a workspace free of clutter has benefits. Not only is it more aesthetically pleasing but not having to stop and search for your supplies will increase your productivity.

Prioritize an Ergonomic Set-Up

A workspace designed with ergonomics in mind can help reduce body stress, make you more comfortable, and ultimately improve productivity and work quality.

Stay Hydrated

Drink plenty of water avoiding sugary drinks, too much caffeine, and processed foods that can make you dehydrated. If you find the taste of water boring, consider adding a twist of a citrus fruit.

Enjoy Healthy Snacks

Snacks like nuts, hydrating fruits and vegetables, will help you stay energized and can help fend off sugar cravings. If your choice is a doughnut or a snack bar, pick a snack bar made from wholesome ingredients.

Move Around

Get up from your desk regularly to walk or stretch. You might think that you will lose focus, or you don't have time, but you will feel better and might even be more productive than if you would have stayed sitting. If it helps, set an alarm as a reminder.

Simple Tips

Don't just rely on your desk for storage. Desktop and Drawer organizers work to keep key objects in one place making it easy to grab and go. Optimize your storage space by using filing cabinets, wall storage, hooks and clips giving you more room to work. Project planners, and bulletin boards can help keep you stay organized, keeping important dates and reminders in plain view.

Take Breaks

Taking a break may be the last thing you want to do when faced with a seemingly endless to-do list but taking short breaks throughout the day may help to boost productivity and promote well-being.

Breathe

Take a deep breath. It is a good way to relax and relieve stress.

The 20/20 Rules

Computer eye strain can lead to dry eyes, blurry vision and headaches. When working on a computer it's a good idea to follow the 20/20/20 rule: every 20 minutes, look at something 20 feet away for 20 seconds.

Maintain Good Posture

Check that you are using good posture. This will reduce the stress on your body while seated. Adjust your chair to support your back and minimize awkward postures that can lead to muscle tension, fatigue, and soreness.

Unplug & Recharge

Life is all about balance. To maintain a healthy work-life balance try to detach from your tech at the end of the day and do something to relax. Take a walk, read a book, walk your dog, or walk the neighbor's dog... but take time to recharge!

11 Tips to Help You Work Safely

Box Cutter Safety Tips

Safely shorten the blade

Cut at an angle from your body

Retract fully when not in use

Wear gloves

Keep box cutter blades sharp

Change dull, rusty blades

Keep a first aid kit nearby

Protect Your Back

Lift with your leg muscles keeping your back straight while bending your knees. If you need to pick up and carry heavy loads, keep the load close to your body and lift with your thigh muscles. Use dollies, hand trucks or forklifts to safely lift and move heavy loads.

Practice Good Postures

If the job requires being stationary for an extended period consider changing to an ergonomic workspace.

Use the Right Tools

Use the right tools and equipment for the task and always check the safety features before using.

Use PPE

Always wear protective equipment to suit the task. Safety vests, safety goggles, hard hats, masks, and gloves can help reduce your risk of injury.

Stay Alert

Pay attention to caution signs and safety mirrors for blind spots.

Be Aware of Possible Hazards

Never overload electrical sockets. Turn off and unplug electrical equipment when not in use. Ensure any loose wires and cables are housed in cable protectors.

Fire Extinguishers

Know where the fire extinguishers are and how to operate them.

Emergency Exits

Know where the exits are, and make sure they are clearly marked and access is not blocked.

First Aid Kits

Ensure there is a well-stocked first-aid kit in your workplace, and everyone is aware of its location.

Keep Workspaces Clean

Keep floors dry, and aisles and exits clear. Tools and equipment should be stored away when not in use.

Take Regular Breaks and Stay Hydrated

Staying fresh and alert will help you avoid injury.

Ladder Safety

Always face the ladder when ascending or descending.

Use at least one hand to firmly grasp the ladder.

Never carry an object or load that could cause you to lose your balance.

Cyber Security Tips

Connect Only to Safe Wi-Fi Networks

Avoid using public Wi-Fi hotspots and never surf without your firewall enabled. Privacy screens will keep anyone from stealing glances at anything on your screen. If you are working remotely consider using VPN (virtual private network), a secure option that will make you less vulnerable to risk.

Avoid Phishing scams

Be on guard for phishing messages. Phishers want you to open emails, with malicious pop-up windows or links. Never enter personal or company information in response to an email, pop-up webpage, or any other communication you did not initiate.

Set Strong Passwords

Use complex passwords or passphrases and use different passwords for different accounts. If you are not able to remember them (refrain from writing them down) consider a password manager program. These programs generate strong passwords for you, enter credentials automatically, and remind you to update your passwords periodically.

Secure your Devices

Never leave your devices unattended. Keep laptops, mobile phones, flash drives, external hard drives (make sure they are encrypted) physically secured in a locked cabinet or safe when not in use. Use locks on your laptop and computer cases. Use an automatic screen lock so when your screen is idle a few minutes it locks.

Practice Safe Browsing

Be careful where you click. Avoid visiting unknown websites or downloading software from untrusted sources. Secure websites have an https connection which means the connection is encrypted which allows secure data transfer. When googling don't click on the first result found in Google. Googling a subject can bring back many search results, including results that have nothing to do with what you have searched, or worse a fake advertisement that can lead you to a malicious website. Instead scroll down to see trusted familiar websites.

Phishing Don't be Bait!

- Don't click on any links contained within an email, unless you are absolutely sure of what they are, and who sent them.
- Don't open any attachments from anyone unless you are certain the sender is legitimate and you are expecting the file.
- Don't open any email you feel is suspicious, even if you trust the sender. Instead, contact the sender by phone to confirm.
- Look but don't click. Hover your mouse over any links embedded in the body of the email. If the link address looks weird, don't click on it.

Things you Can Do Today

- Software updates
- Strengthen your passwords
- Implement Multi Factor Authentication (MFA)

Enable Firewall Security

Think of it as your digital security gatekeeper. The firewall decides what gets in and what gets out.

Back Up your Data

Make it a habit to back up your data regularly (including cloud data) to a secure, encrypted, off site location. Ideally you would keep three copies, the original on your computer, and the second copy in cloud storage, and the third copy would be kept on a separate storage device like an external hard drive or USB memory stick. Do not use USB sticks on unfamiliar computers.

Update During Off-Hours

Set a reminder to turn on your device during off hours. That way your device can update when you don't need it and you will be more secure when you do!

Store your Data

Keep sensitive or private information such as credit card numbers, passwords in a safe or locked cabinet and never post on any sites or send through email. Use privacy settings on your social media accounts to restrict access to personal information.

Dispose of Data

Carefully dispose of sensitive information when it is no longer needed. Choose a cross-cut shredder to dispose of credit cards, DVDs and CDs. Equipment should be thoroughly reformatted or the hard drive physically destroyed to minimize recovery.

Implement Multi-Factor Authentication (MFA)

Multi-or-two factor authentication boosts your password security by adding an extra layer (or more) when you login to your account. This means even if your password is stolen, access will still be restricted if the second piece of authentication isn't provided.

Install Antivirus/Anti-Malware Protection

New viruses are identified every day so it is crucial your antivirus is always running with the latest definitions.

Install the Latest Software and App Updates

Install updates promptly. They contain vital security upgrades that help protect you against security breaches. Setting up this feature to update automatically will help ensure you have the latest protection.

Ergonomic Workspace Checklist

Choose the Right Chair

Not all chairs are created equal. The right chair provides the correct lumbar support to improve posture and has the adjustability to achieve the optimal position at your workstation. There are few considerations more important than ergonomics. The right chair can reduce repetitive work strains and minimize the loss of productivity. The ideal chair will be easily adjustable in terms of back tilt, seat tilt, back height and chair height. Added features like seat slide and adjustable lumbar support may be helpful. An ergonomic chair with a headrest may suit those looking to reduce strain on the neck and upper back.

Sit-to-Stand Desks and Adjustable Height Desks

Sit-to-Stand Desking can make you feel more energized and less tired. Sit-to-stand desks are height adjustable desks that allow you to alternate between sitting and standing while working. This may improve your overall health and well-being by promoting movement with minimal interruption to productivity and workflow.

Monitor Arms

The right one will allow you to position your monitor at the right level (2 or 3 inches above your eye line) for you to see most of your screen without moving your neck. It will also allow you to move the monitor around your desk, depending on the requirement of different tasks.

Laptop/Tablet Risers

Raising the laptop up to eye level or slightly below allows you to see the screen clearly, without adding more strain on your eyes, neck, shoulders and arms, and also encourages better posture.

Ergonomic Mice

A regular ergonomic mouse will allow you to cradle and support your hand to deliver comfort. A vertical mouse has the ability to promote neutral forearm positioning to prevent forearm twisting, and quite often they are programmable. An adjustable mouse can allow the user to switch between tilt angles so you can find the angle that works best for you. You may want to consider a trackball if a mouse causes pain or fatigue in your wrists. This will help reduce fine wrist movements.

Ergonomic Keyboards

The right keyboard will allow you to keep the mouse close to the keyboard which in turn releases the strain that can be placed on your neck and shoulders, allowing you to keep your arms in the optimal position.

Anti-Fatigue Mats

The best mats will reduce pressure on the body, encouraging movement to prevent fatigue. If you want to stand at your desk, or switch between standing or sitting, a supportive anti-fatigue mat will help you do so comfortably.

Backrests/Footrests

Backrests can help to provide comfort and support when your chair does not have built-in lumbar support. The ideal footrest assists the efforts of an ergonomic chair and will help address lower back fatigue when you are sitting for long periods.

Lighting

Good lighting relaxes your eyes reduces eyestrain and helps prevent squinting. It will also help you avoid craning your neck at an unnatural angle.

Headsets

Headsets will help you avoid awkward positions while typing and doing other tasks. Noise-cancelling headsets will drown out distracting sounds.

Other Important Considerations

Mouse pads and wrist rests work to help you maintain a neutral position. Keyboard trays are designed to help you relax the palms of your hands while keeping your arms comfortably bent at a 90-degree angle. Document holders will help keep you from twisting and bending your neck causing fatigue and discomfort.

Tips for Setting Up your Ergonomic Workspace

Adjust Your Chair

Choose a chair that supports your spinal curves. Adjust the height of your chair so that your feet rest flat on the floor or on a footrest and your thighs are parallel to the floor. Adjust armrests so your arms gently rest on them with your shoulders relaxed.

Backrest

Your back should be straight. Move the backrest so that the chair's lumbar support is at the curve of your lower back. Change the angle of your backrest by using your body weight to lean back against it until you find a comfortable position.

Computer Screen

Position your screen so that it is in front of you not to one side. The top of the screen should be at or slightly below eye level. Your monitor should be at least an arm's length away from your seated position. If you are using a laptop prop it on your desk at a reasonable height, use a laptop riser to achieve this if needed.

Telephone

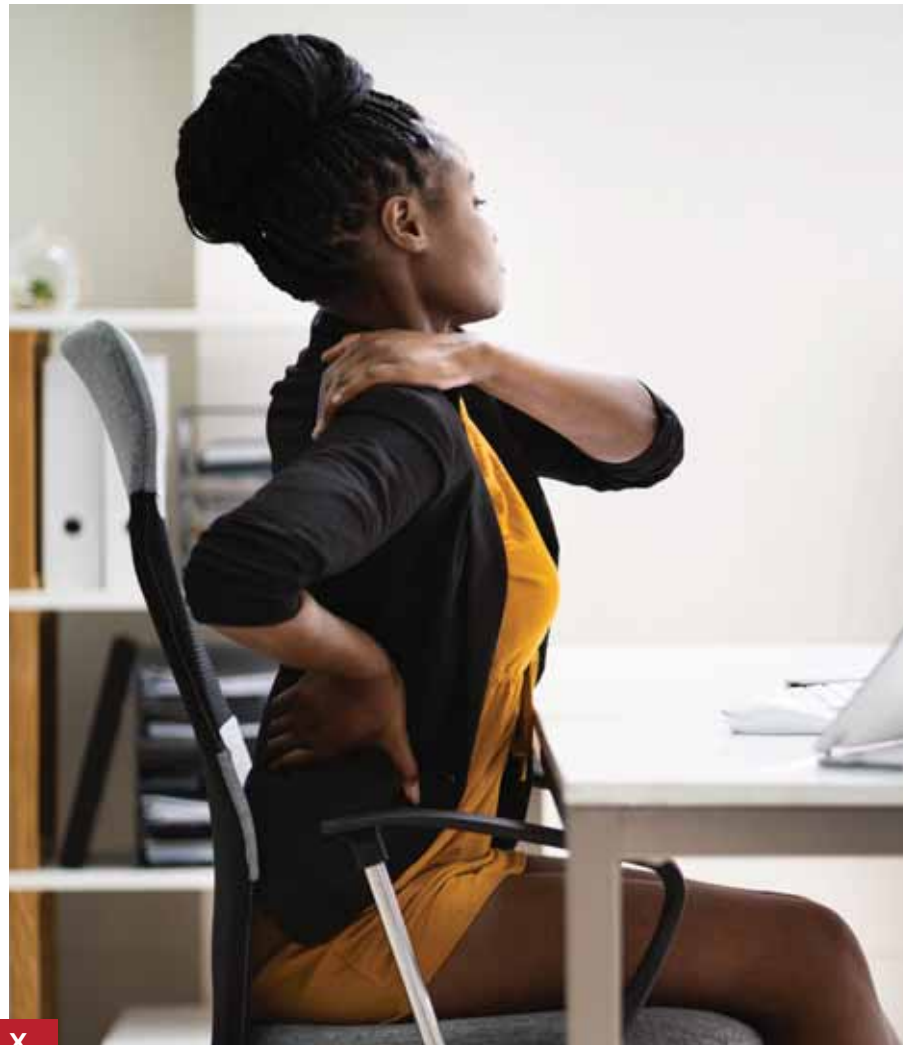

If you use your phone frequently, place it close to you to reduce repetitive reaching. Do not cradle the phone between your shoulder and your ear putting a strain on your neck. Consider using a headset or speakerphone to avoid awkward neck postures.

Footrest

If your chair is too high for you to rest your feet flat on the floor, or the height of your desk requires you to raise the height of your chair, use a footrest. Try pushing your feet into the footrest as this helps to push your back into the back of the chair which provides better support. If a footrest is not available, try using a small stool or a stack of sturdy books instead.

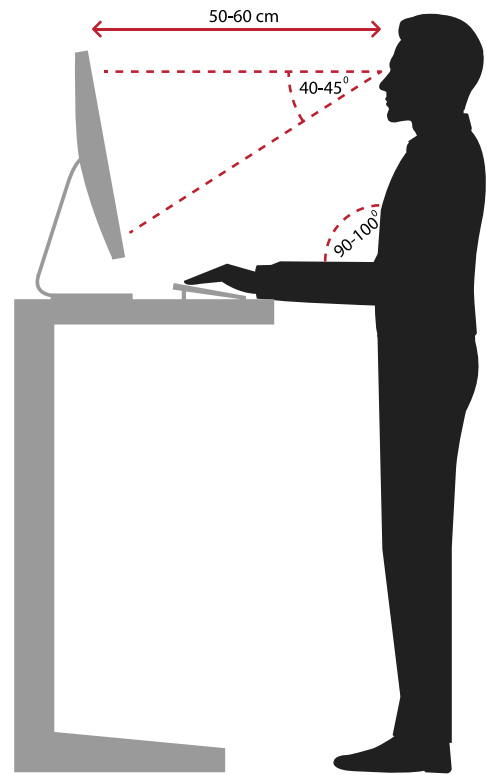

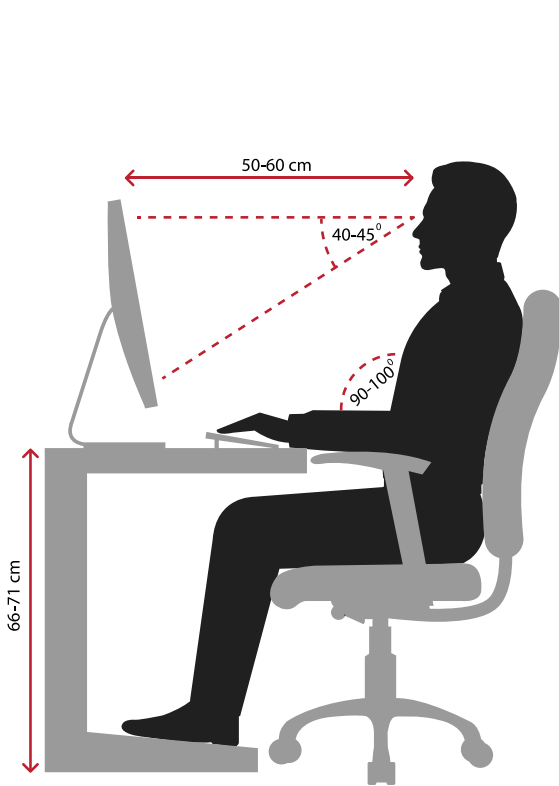

Lighting

Good lighting will help reduce eyestrain and help avoid craning your neck at an unnatural angle. Avoid light reflecting on your monitor by ensuring the screen does not face a window or light source. Adjust the contrast and brightness on your screen to a comfortable level. Follow the 20/20/20 rule: every 20 minutes, look at something 20 feet away for 20 seconds, this will help you avoid eyestrain. Place an adjustable task light on your desk where you need to focus the most light.

Tips

Reduce eye strain by using a blue light screen protector on your computer screen or tablet.

Maintain Proper Body Posture

Sit with your hips and knees at a 90 degree or greater angle. Keep your feet flat on the floor or on a footrest. Keep your arms relaxed at your sides. Alternate between different postures on a regular basis.

Keyboard and Mouse Placement

Place your mouse within easy reach and on the same surface as your keyboard. It is important that while typing or using your mouse you keep your wrists straight, upper arms close to your body, and your hands slightly below or level with your elbows. Use keyboard shortcuts to reduce mouse time. Do not grip or hover your hand over the mouse when not in use.

Set up Your Desk

Organize your desk layout so frequently used objects are closer so you don't have to reach for them. Avoid excessive bending of the neck by not placing documents between the keyboard and the front of your desk. When sitting, your legs should fit comfortably under your desk with your feet flat on the floor, with enough space to cross your legs.

How to Look Your Best on Video Calls

Light Your Face!

Being seen is an essential part of a video call so you want to make sure the image is crisp and clear. While natural lighting works best what is most important is that the light source is in front of you. You want your face to be well-illuminated to create a silhouette effect and avoid dimming your face. Backlighting can be problematic so try to use natural light from the front or side whenever possible.

Tips

Set up your computer in front of a window, and more importantly, make sure that light is hitting your face straight-on.

Adjust the screen brightness on your monitor screen especially if you are taking a call without natural light.

Position a lamp on either side of your desk. That way, your face will be illuminated from both sides and you will avoid unnatural shadows.

Raise Your Camera!

The optimal camera angle should be head-on and at eye level. The camera should capture your face and part of your upper body, with the camera aligned with your eyes. You don't want people to feel like they are looking down or up at you.

Tips

When talking look directly at the camera (not the screen), so it feels like you have eye contact with the person.

Consider using a webcam. This gives you more control over the position and angle.

The right monitor stand or monitor arm will bring the laptop screen to eye level. This will help relieve eyestrain, and automatically put your upper body in a more ergonomic position.

Test Your Video Before the Call!

It's a good idea to test your video conferencing software before the call, especially if you've never used it before. You will want to make sure you have a strong Wi-Fi connection and that your device is either plugged in or fully charged.

Tips

Long conference calls can drain a laptop battery quickly so make sure you have a spare charger.

External hubs with ethernet connectivity are ideal for laptops so you can plug in to your modem or router.

Ethernet cables work well with desktop monitors, simply connect an Ethernet cable to the built-in-port.

ATTENTION!

Don't forget to mute yourself when you are not speaking.

Find a Quiet Place.

Ideally you want to set up in a quiet room, with no distractions. You may not have control over the audio, but you will sound better if you take the call in a quiet space.

Tips

If you are taking the call in a public space remember background noise will be a distraction to you and the other participants on your call. Pick an area with the fewest people and consider using headphones. Headphones with a built-in microphone or earbuds will also work better than your computer's built-in speakers.

Background.

Turn on your camera before a call to see what's being captured and adjust to ensure your framing is good. On a video call you want the focus to be on you, not on what's behind you so choose a neutral uncluttered background. This doesn't mean you have to relocate to a different room but even slightly turning your screen can make a big difference.

Tips

If you need some extra privacy, look for the background blurring effect function that can be found on most video call applications.

Get Comfortable!

A good chair may not make up for missing your daily fitness routine, but some may certainly protect your back better. The right chair can also help you align more properly with the way you look at your computer monitor and may help prevent neck issues as well.

Tips

Consider ergonomic seating. A good chair will offer good support, encouraging good posture, reducing back and shoulder pain.

Video Conferencing Do's and Don'ts

Check Your Appearance

Know your audience! Your comfiest t-shirt and sweats may work when your call is with your friends but when it is a work call, it is best to dress in work-appropriate clothing. Play it safe, and wear neutral tones in solid patterns as stripes, plaids and detailed patterns might take on a shimmering effect that can be distracting.

Stay Focused

Be mindfully present and focused on the meeting in front of you. The thing about video conferencing is that you are on video. They can see you... This is not the time to check your emails or send a text.

Location, Location, Location!

Pick a quiet, well-lit area for your call. It's best to keep your background neutral, uncluttered and professional.

Know When to Turn Your Audio On or Off

Mute your side of the call if you're not speaking. Most microphones can pick up background noises which can be distracting to the other participants. If you are in a noisy space like a coffee shop or are sharing the room with others consider using a headset. This will help eliminate echoes and help other participants hear you more clearly.

Be Ready to Go

Don't be late! Log in early and test your audio and video settings before you start. While you might be able to get away with being late to a physical meeting, everything is more visible in a video conference.

Eliminate Distractions

Eliminate distractions by silencing notifications, cell phones, and other devices.

Sharing Your Screen

Be prepared. Before the video conference clear your desktop. Close apps, unnecessary tabs from your browser, and any private or confidential documents.

Posture

Sit up straight. It will help you feel more energetic and make you look more enthusiastic!

Look into the Camera

Looking into the camera is the equivalent of looking into the person's eyes so be sure to look into the camera instead of the computer screen. If you look at the screen or your phone it will look like you are avoiding eye contact or appearing distracted. Looking directly into the camera will assure the speaker they have your full attention.

Signal When you Want to Talk

In face to face meetings, you can pick up on visual cues to help find the right time to speak. It's easier to accidentally interrupt on a video call. Wait for a couple of seconds after the speaker stops talking to account for sound delays. Speak clearly in your normal tone. And don't forget to unmute yourself!

Breakroom

Sometimes to better understand a problem, you need to take a step back to get a fresh perspective. Whether it is to take a short walk or spend some time in the breakroom, it is important to get away from your desk for a few minutes to get new ideas!

The breakroom is an essential for employees. It allows them to recharge their battery and stretch their legs. It also allows them to interact with their peers outside of meetings. These interactions are an opportunity to build relationships with colleagues by discussing subjects other than work.

Rethink your breakroom to give your employees the chance to replenish their energy and inspiration!

Home Office Essentials

Monitor

Laptop screens are not always easy on our eyes. Adding a monitor is an easy upgrade and can dramatically help improve that. You will need a monitor if you have a desktop computer, but a monitor can also be useful if you are working on a laptop, as well as help alleviate neck and eye strain. Consider adding a second monitor to your workflow to increase your productivity.

Sit-to-Stand Workstations

A sit-to-stand setup encourages us to alternate between sitting and standing which scientists believe is a good balance between standing on your feet all day or sitting all day. Besides the health benefits it may even improve productivity. Sit-to-stand workstations come in different sizes and styles so even if your office area is the size of a shoe box, you will find an option that will function perfectly in your space.

Monitor Stand /Monitor Arm

Monitor stands and monitor arms help you adjust your monitor to the proper eye level. Stands and arms will allow you to make use of the extra room on your desk when you are working with limited space.

Laptop Stand

This will allow you to use your laptop like a desktop computer, without hunching over it. You will still enjoy the benefit of it being portable.

Headphones & Earbuds

Headphones and earbuds can be helpful when you work from home but important if you are working from a busy coffee shop or airport. Their compact size and portability will allow you to enjoy your favourite playlist or whatever you are currently binging on Netflix without disturbing anyone.

Keyboard & Mouse

If you spend most of your day typing, a good keyboard and mouse are essential to boosting productivity. Select a keyboard that suits your preferred layout and typing style. Mice come in all different sizes and shapes. Make sure it is a comfortable size for your hands. If it is too big or too small you might bend your wrist in an awkward position. If you struggle with wrist pain, consider an ergonomic shaped one or a vertical mouse.

Backup Drive

Backing up your data on an external storage device is always a good idea. You can use a cloud-based backup service to copy your files automatically, but it's a good idea to have a local back up. Hard drives are available in different size requirements and portable hard drives allow you to back up on the go!

Uninterruptible Power Supply (UPS)

Battery backup is crucial to productivity and uptime. If you have a laptop it will have its own battery backup but if you have a desktop PC, UPS can buy you enough time to safely shut down your computer and complete any saves during a power outage.

Find this product on page 203

USB Hubs

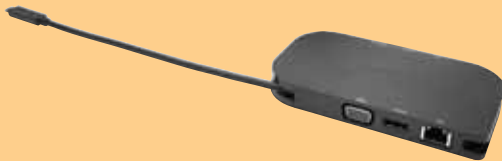

USB hub allow more than one USB connection serviced from one port on your PC. This way you can have an external keyboard, mouse, portable USB storage & charging cable etc., all serviced out of one PC USB port.

Wireless Adapter

Let's face it. You will not be productive if your internet isn't reliable. A wireless adapter will ensure you have a high-speed internet connection so that you can stream videos (maybe a new TV show on Netflix?) and game online without any interruptions.

Find this product on page 202

Docking Station

It will power your laptop, drive one or more monitors, connect to a wired network, and allow you to keep USB devices including your keyboard and mouse attached.

Surge Protector

A surge protector should be a staple in any office that uses computer equipment. It will protect you from electrical spikes coming across the power grid.

Choosing a USB drive

There are hundreds of them in all styles and colours. Here are key points you should consider.

Data Transfer Rate and USB type

Data transfer speed is generally related to the speed offered by a USB connection. USB 2.0 has been the standard for the past decade but the USB 3.0 standard is now the fastest common connection you can have. USB 3.0 offers transfer rate up to 10 times faster and more storage capacity than USB 2.0. Ensure both the USB flash drive and your computer are equipped with USB 3.0.

Data Security

Check out if the drive has some data encryption capabilities. Look for hardware-encrypted drive (rather than software-encrypted) as they offer more security. Encrypted flash drives also offer password-protection. AES 256-bit Advanced Encryption Standard offers the maximum security.

How many GBs should I need?

Here is some guidance.

SIZE	GENERAL APPLICATION	TYPE OF FILES
8 GB	Can store hundreds of text files and small presentations. Can be used for temporary storage of larger documents.	.doc, .docx, .ppt, .pptx
16 GB	Can store larger files using graphics and charts. Can also accept some high resolution pictures or audio files.	.ppt, .pptx, .xls, .xlsx, .mp3
32-256 GB	Best choice to carry and store audio and video files.	.mp3, .mp4, .mov, .wmv

Other consideration and guidance

- Weight. Chip-on-board style (COB) are more compact and lighter as chip and controller are built in a single unit, like a SD card.
- Convenience. These are matter of preferences: lanyard or key ring hole, pivot function, retractable connector, style.
- Protection. Metal casing offers the best protection for accidental drops. Detachable cap offers more protection against dust and dirt.

How to choose the right SD card?

There are three criteria to consider: format, capacity and class.

1. Format

There are 3 SD card formats: micro, mini and standard.

2. Capacity

In addition to format, capacities are divided into 3 categories:

SD: up to 2 GB / SDHC: up to 32 GB / SDXC: 32 GB and up

Make sure your device is compatible with SDHC and SDXC!

3. Class

SD cards were ranked from 1 to 10, with 10 being the highest rating. The class corresponds to a minimum writing speed. Example: the write rate of a class 10 card will be 10 MB/sec. But now, the scale has changed to include U1 and U3. Class 10 is equivalent to U1 (10 MB/sec), but can be even faster according to some brands.

Remember: if you want to record in Full HD, choose U1. If you want to record in 4K, upgrade to U3!

i Purchasing a Hard Drive
When purchasing an external hard drive, you first need to ask yourself a few questions.
The first and maybe the most obvious: how much space do I need?
External hard drives are offered in 500 GB to 6 TB capacity so you need to identify the purpose of this external unit. Keep the following in mind while taking into account the size of your computer's own internal hard drive.

SIZE	PURPOSE
500 GB	You won't find a lot of models still available in this capacity. However, 500 GB is a convenient format to back up personal pictures and movies.
1-2 TB	The most common size available today with enough space to store thousands of files and back-up your system.
3-6 TB	These bigger units should be considered to store and back up movie files or to share all your media content on a Cloud drive.
ABOUT SSD	SSD drive relies on a flash memory chip instead of mobile parts. They have faster transfer rates and less risk of being damaged. As they are new compared to traditional HDD drives, they are more expensive and offer less capacity formats.

What about connection and transfer rate?
You may prefer the most recent type of connection standard available but your choice will be limited to the available ports of your computer. Your best option may be a USB 3.0 drive which is 10 times faster than the USB 2.0 standard. Most recent computers have USB 3.0 ports. Twice as fast as a USB 3.0, a USB-C connection is a great option for computers equipped with this port. Some computers may have other options which can be convenient if you want to free a USB 3.0 port for other devices. See performance speeds of the various types of connection ports.

Portable hard drives
Should you need to carry your drive from home to work, or on the go, consider a pocket-size hard drive, smaller and lighter. Remember that carrying a hard drive with you may require:

- Enhanced data protection, so look for AES 256-bit encryption feature.
- Enhanced protection against shocks and drops, so look for high quality material such as rubberized edges, metal or high quality plastic casing. Carrying your drive in a zippered case will help protecting it from dust and scratches too.

Uninterruptible Power Supply

What is it?

Rising power demand, bad weather, even hazards within your house can cause power surges that can damage your valuable equipment and destroy your data. When a power surge happens, UPS switches the power to its own battery within milliseconds. You will have plenty of time to safely shut down your equipment and even continue working for a short period of time.

What to look for?

The rule is simple. You need to make sure the UPS can handle the total electrical load of the connected devices you want to protect. Yes, you need to sit down and calculate the total output watt capacity, then choose a model with 20-25% higher capacity. Output capacity is not just a matter of computer; the calculation must take into account your router, monitor, cables and any other device you want to protect from power hazards. You can refer to the manufacturer documentation or look for some online load calculators. A unit without enough capacity will not work properly; an overkill model will just cost more without additional value.

Do I need more protection?

An In-line interactive unit, such as Back-UPS Pro, will handle brownouts or line-voltage issues (ex. light power fluctuations). These more robust units are generally equipped with automatic voltage regulation and will add protection to your coaxial, Ethernet and phone lines.

See our web site for complete documentation on these products.

Office Headset Guide

There are three typical methods used to plug a headset into a telephone:

Amplifier into Handset

1. Many older phones and basic phones will require an amplifier that plugs into the handset port on the telephone.

Phone with Headset Port

2. Many newer phones have a modular headset port usually located on the bottom of your telephone to plug into.

Phone with 2.5mm Plug/Jack

3. A 2.5mm headset jack on the side of your telephone to plug a headset into.

What is Required?

To have a corded commercial grade headset solution you will need two items: the headset and either an amplifier or a quick-disconnect cable.

Quick Disconnect Cable

This connection allows you to leave your headset on at all times and quickly disconnect when you need to walk away from your desk.

Amplifiers

An amplifier is between the headset and the phone. It plugs into the phone jack where your telephone handset (receiver) currently plugs in. Your headset then plugs into the amplifier so when the amplifier is on, your headset is active.

Plantronics' amplifiers are compatible with most single-line and multi-line phones, and are the most commonly used devices. Amplifiers have a mute switch and microphone volume adjustment. It gives the highest possible call quality available.

Direct Connect Cable

Many newer phones allow the use of a Direct Connect cable to plug into a headset port. This is a less expensive solution than an amplifier but it also limits your volume and sound quality compared to the amplifier.

Office wireless Headset

What is required?

Adding a Handset Lifter or EHS cable allows you to answer and hang up remotely. They will sense when your phone is ringing and generate beeps in your headset to alert you of a call. To take the call, simply press the Call Control Button on your headset to answer.

Most phones will support the Handset Lifter which raises and lowers your telephone's handset, simulating you answering a call. The EHS electronically establishes calls on newer phones without the mechanical motor and physical movement of your handset, but accomplishes the same thing.

File Folder Selector Guide

Hanging File Folders

- Most convenient way to hold information in a file drawer.
- Best to leave in the file drawer.
- Use removable interior file folders inside hanging file folders.

Box Bottom Hanging File Folders

- Expand at fold for storage of bulky records such as catalogues, large reports and printouts.

Interior File Folders

- Ideal for keeping groups of papers separated within hanging file folders.

Fastener Folders

- Perfect for keeping paperwork secure and in sequential order.

Classification Folders

- Dividers inside folders allow separation of information into different subcategories.
- Fasteners keep papers secure and in sequential order.

Expanding Pocket and Wallet Folders

- Provide ample space for larger amounts of material.

Top-Tab File Folders

- Good for keeping titles visible for quick and simple reference.
- Also ideal for desktop organizers and for storing "low active" archived files in storage boxes.

End-Tab File Folders

- Let you store files on shelves with all indexing visible, for quick filing and retrieval.
- Commonly utilized in the health care industry.

Colour-Coding

- Use different colour folders or tabs for each section of files.
- Makes it easier to quickly find folders and put them back in the right place.
- Try using colours to show importance: red for immediate attention, yellow for current files, green for background material.

Straight Cut Filing Tabs

- Run full width of file folder.
- Often used for multiple labels or extra-long headings.

Half-Cut Filing Tabs

- Run half the width of the file folder.
- Staggered in sets of two for visibility.
- Good for long headings.

Third Cut Filing Tabs

- Run a third the width of the file folder.
- Staggered in sets of three for visibility.

Fifth Cut Filing Tabs

- Run a fifth the width of the file folder.
- Staggered in sets of five for visibility.
- Ideal for numerical or alphabetical indexing.

Materials

- Manila: Thick, durable buff-coloured paper originally made from Manila hemp fibre. Provides tearing, folding and bursting strength at a popular price.
- Kraft: Strong, unbleached sulphate stock with a smooth surface and pleasing tan colour. Good for applications that require strength and rigidity.
- Pressboard: Stiff, durable, highly glazed paperboard stock of superior rigidity and strength. Made from rag or chemical wood pulp to be less acidic than board made from mechanical wood pulp.
- Polypropylene: Durable and flexible. Tear-resistant, static-free, acid-free, archival quality, protects against copy transfer.

Archival Safe Folders

- Made of lignin and acid-free stock to provide superior protection for archival storage of documents and photographs.

Anti-Microbial Folders

- Especially treated with anti-microbial agent to guard against growth of bacteria, odours, algae, mould, fungus and mildew. Ideal for medical environments or anywhere bacteria and mould control is critical.

Point System

- 9 1/2 pt: Medium weight manila for inactive files.
- 11 pt: Heavy-weight stock is the economical choice for general filing.
- 14 pt: Extra heavy-weight durable folder stock for files that get frequent use.
- 17 pt: Super heavy-weight. A common weight for guides.
- 20–25 pt: Superior weight and rigidity available in pressboard.

Suggestions

- Alphabetical organization usually works better than a complex system.
- Start with broad categories, then divide into smaller subcategories.
- Put noun first, then adjective "clients, past" not "past clients."
- Avoid vague categories such as "miscellaneous" or "other."
- Combine folders that go together under one larger heading.
- Split larger categories into smaller ones as folders get too stuffed
- Abandon categories or add new ones as situations change.
- Spell out acronyms and abbreviations.
- Use markers to show when a file has been removed, and by whom. Make an index of all your files to help eliminate overlapping or conflicting file names.

One envelope for every need. What about yours?

OPENING	 Open Side	 Open End	Open Side Envelope opens on longest dimension. Commonly used for business purposes, greeting cards, invitations, etc.
			Open End Envelope opens on the shortest dimension and has a single centre seam on back. Commonly used for catalogue/brochure mailings, coin envelopes, etc.
SEAMS	 Outside Side Seam	 Regular Side Seam	Outside Side Seam This style of envelope provides no 'catching' on seam while inserting; reduces jamming and downtime.
		 Centre Seam	Regular Side Seam The side seam style envelope is the most common envelope design. The seams are glued in the interior of the envelope.
			Centre Seam The centre seam design is found in open end designed envelopes.
SEAL	 Seal Gum	 Press to Seal	Seal Gum Adhesive applied to inside of flap to seal envelope. Most common type requires moisture to create effective seal.
		 Peel and Seal	Press to Seal Adhesive applied in strips to both inside flap and back of envelope. Simply pressing flap down creates the seal.
			Peel and Seal Removable strip on the inside of flap. Simply remove paper strip, fold flap and press to seal.
TINT	 Security	 Plain	Security Printed artline inside the envelope provides security and confidentiality for the contents by preventing see-through. Natural kraft envelopes offer the same benefit. When sending personal information, security envelopes are the perfect choice.
			Plain For simple and non-confidential mailings, plain envelopes are made of white wave paper.
WINDOWS	 Single, left	 Biodegradable	Single The single window on the left is designed to display the mailing address.
		 Double, left	Bio-degradable EnviroSafe® is a new generation of polystyrene window film for envelopes. It is biodegradable, fully recyclable and contains 25% post-industrial recycled content. Specially formulated to reduce scratching, this film meets postal standards.
			Double The 2 windows on the left are designed to display the mailing and return addresses.

Ballpoint Extended Write-Out

- Durable, non-water based ink
- Virtually smudge-free: great for lefties
- Economical stick versions offer extended write-out: best for high-usage areas like service counters, warehouses
- Point won't tear thin pages: works best on multi-part forms and contracts
- Small rotating ball dispenses ink as you push pen across page

SMOOTHER

Advanced Ink System Effortless Writing

- Pens using Advanced Ink Systems provide unparalleled smoothness because the optimized delivery systems reduce friction between the tip and the paper when writing
- Unique ink viscosities (lower than typical Ball Pens, higher than Rollerball and Gel pens) allow an even flow on paper for improved colour vibrancy and brilliance on paper
- Advanced Ink Systems are convenient for lefties because they dry more quickly than most gel pen inks resulting in limited to no smearing
- Advanced Ink Systems require minimal pressure from your hand when writing, so they are ideal for all writing occasions; from short notes to essays

MEDIUM

Porous Point Everyday Writing and Drawing

- Quick drying, water-based ink resists smearing and won't bleed through paper

The future of the office

Whether the shift comes from the digital world we live in, within the company, or is influenced by the next generation of employees, it is obvious that the work environment we are living in is evolving.

Expectations of today's employees have evolved as well. Be it a more flexible schedule, choosing between working in the office (in an open space or a cubicle), remotely from home, or a hybrid of both, more and more employees are looking for jobs offering more choices.

Successful companies are always looking for ways to create a collaborative and productive workspace. Recognizing their employee's desires for a work/life balance and the freedom to choose how and where they work, will establish a strong work culture.

Make room for creativity!

If you decide to makeover a room, let your creativity loose and make sure your values are reflected in the design. A creative workspace will certainly help stimulate new ideas!

You can also base your design on a theme to create a unique space for your employees.

Green spaces

Another rising trend, at home or at the office, is to integrate nature into your decor. For example, adding plants can help improve the feeling of well-being at work.

Ask your employees what they think!

You are planning on a room makeover in your business?

Involve your employees in the process! What do you think they want more? A training room that provides additional knowledge and skills, or a relaxation area where they can unwind, recharge, then emerge a while later being able to focus better? Both? Some of their responses could surprise you!

Involving employees at the beginning of the creative process has its advantages in that it will make them feel valued as well as increase their sense of belonging.

Chair Feature Information

Height & Depth Controls

1
Pneumatic Seat-Height Adjustment
Regulates height of chair relative to floor.

2
Back-Height Adjustment
Positions lumbar support within a fixed range.

3
Seat-Depth Adjustment
Positions chair back relative to seat.

4
Seat Glide Mechanism
Seat cushion travels forward and back, then locks into position.

5
360 Degree Swivel
Standard on every executive and task chair.

6
Tilt
Pivot point located directly above center of chair base.

7
Mid-Range Knee Tilt
Pivot point located slightly ahead of center of chair base. Allows user to recline at a slightly more relaxed angle than conventional tilt.

8
Knee Tilt
Pivot point located near front edge of chair. Allows user to keep feet flat on floor while chair reclines.

9
Dual-Action Synchro Tilt
Back reclines at a 2-to-1 ratio to seat angle. Allows user to recline while keeping seat cushion relatively level to floor.

10
Tilt Tension
Controls rate and ease of recline.

11
Tilt Lock
Locks out tilt function when chair is in upright position.

12
Posture Mechanism/Lock
Back angle adjusts independently of seat, and can be locked in an infinite number of positions.

13
Multi-Task Control
Adjusts seat and back angles with a single lever (infinite locking within a fixed range).

14
Asynchronous Control
Three levers modify:
• Angle of back relative to seat
• Tilt (free float or infinite locking within a fixed range)
• Forward tilt

15
Synchronized Knee Tilt
Back reclines at a 2-to-1 ratio to seat angle. Pivot point located near front edge of chair.

16
Dual-Clutch Posture Control
Adjusts seat and back angles independently with two levers (infinite locking within a fixed range).

17
Variable Synchro Tilt
Back reclines at a 2-to-1 ratio to the seat. Chair can tilt freely, or lock in position. "Forward angle" control provides an extra 5 degrees in the range of motion.

18
Inverse Synchro Tilt
Synchro Tilt with automatic tension control opens torso for better circulation. "Zero lift" seat front helps keep feet on the floor when reclining. Tilt limiter controls range of motion.

19
Independent Seat and Back
Seat and back flex independently for automatic comfort.

20
Integral Lumbar Support
Easily adjusts to enhance comfort.

Arm Options

Fixed Position T-Arms

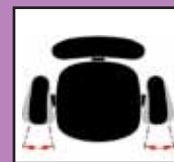

Loop Arms

Adjustable-Height Arms
Provide improved upper-torso support. Can be adjusted periodically to relieve strain and provide variety.

Adjustable-Width Arms
Quick-adjust design places arms close to body for keyboarding, or out to sides for ease of entry.

Each arm rotates 30 degrees and adjusts 1/2" in height. Position inboard for keyboarding, outboard for entry and exit.
